

NATIONAL PENSIONS REGULATORY AUTHORITY

PRESS RELEASE

For Immediate Release

Accra-24-10-2025

STATEMENT FROM THE NATIONAL PENSIONS REGULATORY AUTHORITY (NPRA) ON THE PASSING OF HER EXCELLENCY NANA KONADU AGYEMAN-RAWLINGS, FORMER FIRST LADY OF THE REPUBLIC OF GHANA

The Board, Management, and Staff of the National Pensions Regulatory Authority (NPRA) have learned with deep sorrow, the passing of Her Excellency Nana Konadu Agyeman-Rawlings, the former First Lady of the Republic of Ghana, at the age of 76.

Her Excellency Nana Konadu Agyeman-Rawlings was a distinguished stateswoman, an iconic figure in Ghana's political and development history, and a passionate advocate for women's empowerment. Through her vision-ary leadership and dedication, especially within the 31st December Women's Movement, she promoted initiatives that enhanced the welfare, education, and economic opportunities of women and children across the country until her passing.

Her work and contributions to Ghana's development remain an indelible part of the country's history.

The NPRA extends its deepest condolences to her children, the entire Rawlings family, the Government, Asantehene Otumfuo Osei Tutu II, the National Democratic Congress (NDC), the National Democratic Party (NDP), and the people of Ghana during this difficult period of mourning.

The Authority stands in solidarity with the nation as we celebrate the re-markable life and enduring legacy of an extraordinary Ghanaian woman.

May her soul rest in perfect peace.

SIGNED.

MANAGEMENT

National Pensions Regulatory Authority (NPRA) regulates both public and private pension schemes in Ghana.